FISCAL YEAR 2025: July 1, 2024- June 30, 2025

Eligible Public Water Systems Include: Community Water Systems & Non-Profit Non-Community Systems

The State Fiscal Year (SFY) 2025 Call for Projects is still underway for eligible drinking water projects. The Drinking Water State Revolving Fund (DWSRF) Program offers loans at half of the market rate and borrowers typically have up to 20 years to repay them after their project is completed. The DWSRF is intended to be used to finance improvements to existing eligible drinking water infrastructure. The DWSRF cannot be used to finance water system expansion projects unless those projects are necessary to resolve documented public health problems. Examples of eligible drinking water projects are provided on the DWSRF website. A project must first be deemed eligible for funding and ready to proceed before the DPH can provide any offer of financing.

Questions received through the first Call for Questions have been posted online and can be viewed here. Informational webinars held on March 12, 2024 and March 13, 2024, are now available on the DWSRF website as well. They can also be accessed through the following links:
